Confined Spaces 102 Online Training

Our E-Learning Programs are FREE to all CIRMA members.

Course Description

Since confined spaces are potentially dangerous, employers must evaluate all spaces in which their employees work to determine if hazards exist or if the work can create hazards. Employers must take certain precautions whenever workers enter a dangerous space. This one-hour course will continue to educate both employers and employees who work in confined spaces on how to develop a safe work environment that complies with federal regulations.
