Anti-Bias Training For Law Enforcement Online Training Program

Our E-Learning Programs are FREE to all CIRMA members.

Course Description:

Most people are very accepting of different races and are tolerable to other cultures. There are regional differences, however. Certain areas are statistically more open and accepting than others. In the past, law enforcement in some areas of the country had a reputation of having a racial bias. While much about society is different, both parties — citizens of color and law enforcement — can still have thoughts that reflect historical perspective. This one-hour course on anti-bias will equip officers to address racial problems and ensure that the community understands their professionalism.

Time: One hour Preview the Anti-Bias Training For Law Enforcement online training program here.

Learning Objectives:

At the end of training, you will better understand:

- The two offices that make the largest contributions to anti-biased behavior on the force
- Different narratives that people are thinking.
